*This outline was last reviewed on June 26, 2007. The recommendations at that time were: 1) On page after cover page, replace course description with appropriate program learning outcomes for a humanities elective. 2) In the Specific Learning Outcomes the depth and breadth of what is required of the students should be indicated. Ex: 1.3 how many signed words and phrases will the student be expected to produce by the end of the course? Author can refer to FL 103 Chinese I on the VPIA website as an example. 3) Specific outcome 3.1 – the verb “research” is a process not an outcome. Will the student be expected to write a paper, give an oral presentation or produce some other type of proof of the research? 4) “III”. – the heading should read “TEXTBOOK” and then supplemental materials would be a subheading under the heading. 5) Method of Evaluation needs to be changed to “Suggested Method of Evaluation”.
