Wygant as first U.S. Rep. to FSM

KOLOMIA, Pohnpei (FSM INFORMATION SERVICE) - Another milestone was attained between the Government of the Federated States of Micronesia and the United States of American during a formal presentation ceremony held here Oct. 2 at the FSM Congress Chamber.

The first U.S. Representative to FSM, Michael Wygant, said "the United States salutes your emergence into the world community" as he presented his credentials to President John R. Hagelgarn as the first United States diplomatic Representative to the Federated States of Micronesia, in the presence of the Vice President Hiroshi H. Ismael, Congress Vice Speaker Elias Thomas, cabinet and other high level officials of the FSM government.

In welcoming Ambassador Wygant to the FSM, the President said that the historic occasion witnessed "a full expression of establishing friendly and diplomatic relations between our two countries consistent with the Compact of Free Association and international law and practices," and adding "We take comfort in

Chief Executives agreed to deposit in banks

Deferred action on Revenue Sharing

KOLOMIA, Pohnpei (FSM INFORMATION SERVICE) - The President and the four governors agreed during the Twelfth Chief Executives Conference held Oct. 5-9 on Truk that the FSM governments should make deposits with local banks, but deferred action on topics regarding Revenue Sharing, Tax Administration Reform, and Control of Foreign Labor.

The president of the Bank of FSM, Senator Leo A. Falcam, informed the Chief Executives during the Conference that in order for the Bank to survive, it needs more capital and government deposits from both the state and national governments. That the bank, which was formed three years ago with one-third foreign and two-thirds citizen investors, would survive or die on the strength of its deposits, Senator Falcam stated, and noted that the FSM state officials in Kosrae, Truk and Yap encouraged the (Continued on Page 3) the fact that you are no stranger to our islands.

"The friendship and cooperation between the United States and the Federated States of Micronesia had already been established even before we achieved our independence about 11 months ago. Indeed, we are very grateful to your esteemed government that after two generations of friendship administration, your government has assisted us to regain our sovereignty and to reestablish our place in the world community."

Wygant said that the United States stands ready to assist the FSM in realizing the goals President Hagelgarn's administration has set, and "Working together we can translate the words of the Compact into a living testament of what we once set out to accomplish on the road to free association," he added.

Hagelgarn expressed that "It is most gratifying to have the assurances of assistance from your government as we strive as a nation to attain economic self-sufficiency, maintaining a dignified quality of life, and preserve our cultural heritage."

The President also thanked the Ambassador for services provided to the FSM through Peace Corps, the Civic Action Teams and U.S. National Health Service Corps doctors who are working along with the FSM medical experts in providing and advancing the health delivery systems in the FSM.

"My government and the people of the FSM are determined to continue to carry out our responsibilities and obligations under the Compact of Free Association," President Hagelgarn said, adding "As you assume full charge of the United States Mission in this country, this government looks forward to establishing a continuous and warm working relation-

"I look forward to establishing with you and your government a productive dialogue that will make even closer the warm ties of friendship which bind our two countries. CDA approves copra subsidy formation of the Bank and on numerous occasions advised the Bank officials that the Bank would be used for government deposits.

KOLONIA, Pohnpei (FSM INFORMATION SERVICE) - Despite the low world prices, the FSM Coconut Development Authority (CDA) Board of Directors with the support of the FSM Congress, approved a FSM-wide uniform subsidy price of $200 a ton or 10 cents a pound for Grade I copra, effective Nov. 15, 1987, according to FSMCDA General Manager Namio O. Nanpei.

Grade II copra will be $190 a ton or 95 cents a pound and Grade III, $180 a ton or 9 cents per pound, Nanpei said in an Oct. 27-letter to President John R. Hagelgarn.

Nanpei said that the board, which approved the new prices, felt that the increase in buying price is necessary to incite efforts of the copra cutters and at the same time provide additional income for them.

Because of the lack of government deposits, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) has told the Bank that they will not insure additional branches (Yap and Pohnpei) until they can show government support for the Bank, the Chief Executives were told.

While Pohnpei Governor Resio Moses said that the State of Pohnpei is legally banned from investing in any institution whose assets fall below $500 million, nevertheless, he supported the concept of a domestic private bank and will be working to get the law repealed. President Hagelgam also voiced his concern saying, "the National Government is reluctant to deposit money in the Bank when it is not meeting the requirement of the banking board."

On the other hand, Yap Governor Petrus Tun said that Yap State would be making a deposit to the Bank soon and has already made two deposits previously.

The Chief Executives also decided to let the federal programs' money made available at the beginning of a fiscal year and decided to name representatives to a working group to meet during the Conference and continue discussions on Pohnpei in order to ready a submission of a legislation on Foreign Investment to the Congress during the October session.

The draft foreign investment bill, which is now called "Foreign Enterprise Act" is intended to strengthen the interstate foreign investment environment in the FSM and to attract potential foreign investors into business in the FSM. The three major changes to the existing "Foreign Investment Act of 1981" include:

1) the draft abolishes the existing "Foreign Investment Act of 1981"; 2) it regulates interstate commerce based on the provision in the FSM Constitution; and 3) it changes the focus from regulating individual investors to regulating business, and exempts foreign investment application requirements to three major areas of economic development, including: petroleum companies; airline companies, and banks.

The Chief Executives were briefed by External Affairs Deputy Secretary Asterio Takesy on transitional issues including: estimated funding of $12 million for a new campus of the College of Micronesia; funding for Indefinite Land use which the United States has agreed to put back into the Interior Budget for 1989 fiscal year; War Claims; Federal Programs, particularly: Basic Education Opportunity Grants (BEOG), Student Education Opportunity Grant (SEOG), College Work Study Program (CWS), and Pell Grant, which the U.S. Senate has agreed to sponsor an amendment to the Compact to restore eligibility for the FSM students to the status held before Compact went into effect minus the loan programs.

The Deputy Secretary also briefed the Chief Executives on issues, including: status of Single Audit Requirement; and Multilateral Fisheries Treaty which is now before the U.S. Congress.

Regarding College of Micronesia funding, an Amendment No. 2 to the "Memorandum of Understanding with respect to the division of grant assistance under the Compact among the national and state governments of the FSM" was agreed to and signed by the Chief Executives on Oct. 9 to replace the amendment which was signed on Jan. 30, 1987, but was not ratified by the FSM Congress. The President agreed to take the Chief Executives concerns back to Pohnpei for discussions with College of Micronesia representatives and the FSM Congress.

Though no decision was reached regarding Joint Law Enforcement Agreement, Attorney General Jack Warndof briefed the Chief Executives on the status of a bill to be submitted to the Congress which will change the definition of major crimes. The bill would effectively increase considerable states' authority over prosecuting crimes and lessen the authority for the National Government in accordance with Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) Amendment No. 1.

The Chief Executives were also briefed by Mr. Walter Laskey of Merrill Lynch regarding the investment of Compact Funds. It was learned that the FSM money manager, Seibel, has earned $6.4 million interest over the $23.5 million which was invested at the Hawaiian Trust Company in the period from December 1986 to September 30, 1987.

The conference was also informed by Hawaiian Trust Company Vice President and Administrative Officer for the FSM's account, Mr. Sam Wooley, that one of HIC's primary responsibilities is to account for all income/receipts and all documentations and copies to be provided monthly directly to each State.

Regarding the Monetization of Compact Funds, the Chief Executives signed a "Pledge Agreement" specifying the amounts of moneys agreed to be pledged by each government, which would in turn have to be approved through appropriate legislation. It was also agreed that there be a limit of 25 percent that any government could borrow from its share of the Monetization Fund.

Group's recommendation with regard to the strong role the FSM Development Bank (FSMDB) would have in administering the IDF.

It was felt by all that the FSMDB should primarily have a bookkeeping/paperwork type of role and not play a part in the decision-making process. Because no consensus could be reached in agreeing to the recommendations of the IDF Working Group, the Chief Executives agreed that the States would send their IDF representatives to Pohnpei with written concerns of each respective State Governor the week of October 19th to reanalyze and finalize the IDF Working Group's and draft legislation for submittal to the FSM Congress during its October 1987 session.

The next Conference will convene at the call of the President and Governor Yosiwo George of Kosrae.

PALSIS STUDIES AT UOG - Kosrae Hospital Supervising Nurse Petrina Palsis is one of the five students from the region enrolled in the University of Guam's "Leadership Training for Pacific Island Nurses" Program. Palsis is a Registered Nurse (RN) and is working toward completion of a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing before returning to Kosrae. The program is funded this year with a $90,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Health and Social Services, UOG Information Officer Katherine Singh said.

President submits budget, urges action on Plan

KOLONIA, Pohnpei (FSM INFORMATION SERVICE) - President John R. Hagelgam has submitted a $10.3 million revised budget to Congress including the adjustments effected in the executive branch budget due to cut-backs in position and funding in conjunction with the proposed administration's reorganization plan and modifications regarding housing rental and per diem rates policies.

The cut-backs would mean a savings of over a half-a-million dollars for the FSM national government.

The President informed Speaker Fritz in his Oct. 7 budget submission letter that the three-quarter supplemental funding levels are in keeping with the intent of the reorganization plan by merging programs, agencies and commissions with the executive departments currently performing identical or similar functions.

The reorganization plan proposes to reorganize the FSM executive branch by increasing the number of departments from four to eight and eliminating or merging most of the existing offices and independent agencies and commissions to departments currently performing similar functions.

The President earlier submitted to Congress during its July special session the 1988 fiscal budget with first quarter funding for the executive branch. The Oct. submission includes the accommodation of the remainder of the year three-quarter supplemental funding for the executive branch, commissions and agencies affected by the reorganization plan.

Citing that the "plan" has been described by some as ambitious, the President said, "I think of it as a practical attempt at wrenching this government from a behavioral pattern that is simply too tolerant of inefficiency," and adding that he is convinced that "as in any effort to change behavior, success depends on several critical events: recognizing that serious problems exist, identifying the causes of those problems, and then taking appropriate action to remedy the problem."

In his letter, the President urged the Congress to take action that can "clearly be hailed as progress in our management performance in a spirit of faith in our capacity for change.

"Because of the tremendous trust placed in us by our fellow citizens, we, the national leadership, have a solemn obligation to lead the attack against wasteful spending, mismanagement of resources, technical inefficiencies and other failures of our public service system," the President informed the Congress.

The "plan" incorporates the Foreign Investment Board, the Micronesian Maritime Authority (MMA), and the Trades, Training and Testing (T³) Program into FSM Resources and Development department; FSM Banking Board into Finance department; FSM Board of Education into Office of Education, with Environmental Protection and Medical Licensing boards to be absorbed by the Office of Health Services. National Fisheries Corporation and National Postal Service remain as exceptions and are presented in the budget as semi-autonomous agencies.

The President said he believes these mergers are a step in the direction of more cost-effective government and noted that even with the addition of these responsibilities and their related costs within the executive branch, the government will be able "to reduce the proposed budget for executive branch operations by approximately three-quarters of a million dollars."

The budget as submitted to the Congress was adjusted to include changes made in the initial executive budget submission with modifications on housing rental payments and new per diem rates.

"I believe the rate reductions are an effective way of trimming travel costs," the President said in the letter, inviting the Congress "to join with me in a pledge of cooperation so that through our concerned efforts we can bring the full potential of the executive and legislative branches to bear on reducing the cost of government operations while advancing the most feasible of government development projects."

British Envoy Thompson visits FSM

KOLONIA, Pohnpei (FSM INFORMATION SERVICE) - The British High Commissioner to Republic of Kiribati, the honorable Charles Thompson, whose post also covers the Micronesian islands, visited the FSM Capital Sept. 23-25 as part of a routine familiarization trip which includes Yap State.

Hagelgam, Governor Resio Moses, FSM Congress Vice Speaker Elias Thomas, Pohnpei Legislature Vice Speaker Job Micah and met with FSM External Affairs Secretary Andon Amaraich on discussions regarding informal intergovernment relations between Great Britain and the FSM.

Governor Resio Moses called the plan "the first attempt by this State to reach a consensus for selection of long-term development goals and objectives," and adding "But, we must remember that our selected development goals are meaningful only when, in reality, government policy results in improving (the) quality of life of our people, and at the same time remains socially and culturally acceptable."

Moses asked the Pohnpei citizens to be involved in the implementation of the plan, saying people must assist in the implementation of the programs over the five-year period in order to ensure the maximum benefits of development and economic growth.

Neth thanked the State Planner Nicholson Solomon and his staff for making the work possible and adding that anyone interested in obtaining a copy of the plan can contact Office of Budget, Planning and Statistics, Pohnpei State Government. A $7.00 fee will be charged for a book.

Precautions against AIDS release

KOLONIA, Pohnpei (FSM INFORMATION SERVICE) - Editor's note: The following is a general guidance prepared by the division of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and released by U.S. Secretary of State, George Shultz, to Americans and local residents or officials seeking information about the Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome (AIDS):

"AIDS is a consequence of infection by the Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV). Other less severe illnesses, sometimes grouped under the term Aids-Related Complex (ARC), as well as asymptomatic (no sign of) infections may also result from infection with HIV. The incubation period for AIDS may be long, ranging from a few months to several years. Some individuals infected with HIV remain asymptomatic for five years or more.

Currently, there is no vaccine to protect against infection within HIV, and there is no cure for AIDS.

AIDS has been reported from more than 100 nations, but adequate surveillance systems are lacking in many countries. Because HIV infection and AIDS are globally distributed, the risk to international travelers is determined less by their geographic destination than by their individual behavior.

In other countries, especially less developed nations, there may or may not be a formal program for testing blood or biological products for antibody to HIV. In these countries, use of locally-produced blood clotting factor concentrates should be avoided. If transfusion is necessary, the blood should be tested, if at all possible, for HIV antibodies by appropriately-trained laboratory technicians using a reliable test. Needles used to draw blood or administer injections should be sterile, preferably of the disposa 3 LE type, and prepacked in a sealed, single-unit container. Diabetics or other persons who require routine or frequent injections should carry a supply of syringes and needles sufficient to last their entire stay abroad."

American citizens contemplating to travel abroad should contact their sponsor, the host country embassy or the U.S. Public Health Service (USPHS) for further information. USPHS may be reached at: Department of Health and Human Services, U.S. Public Health Service, Centers for Disease Control, Atlanta, Georgia 30333, Telephone 404-329-2572.

HIV infection is preventable. There is no documented evidence of HIV transmission through casual contacts: air, food, or water routes; contract with inanimate objects or through mosquitoes or other arthropod vectors. HIV is transmitted through sexual intercourse, blood or blood components, and perinatally from an infected mother.

Travelers are at increased risk if they: 1) Have sexual intercourse (homosexual or heterosexual) with an infected person, 2) Use or allow the use of contaminated, unsterilized syringes or needles for any injections, e.g., illicit drugs, tatooing, acupuncture, or medical/dental procedures, 3) Use of infected blood, blood components, or clotting factor concentrates.

Travelers should avoid sexual encounters with a person who is thought to be infected with HIV or whose HIV infection status is unknown. This will mean avoiding sexual activity with intravenous drug users and person with multiple sexual partners, including male or female prostitutes. Condoms may decrease, but not entirely eliminate transmission of HIV. Persons who engage in vaginal, anal, or oral-genital intercourse with anyone infected of HIV or whose infection status is unknown should use condoms. Diaphragms in combination with a spermicide may provide additional protection. In U.S., Australia, Canada, Japan, and Western European countries the risk of infection is reduced through mandatory testing of all donated blood for the presence of antibodies to HIV.

Sos retains Speakership in Truk

MOEN, Truk (FSM INFORMATION SERVICE) - Speaker Kisande Sos was able to retain speakership of the Third Truk State Legislature during a Sept. 23 reorganization meeting following its unsuccessful attempt to adopt the resolution to impeach the Truk Governor, according to Legislature Chief Clerk Datasi Albert.

This is the second time the Truk Legislature has shuffled its top officers and committee chairmen during this term since its adoption a year ago of a resolution amending the Rules of Procedures making the terms of office to be "terminated...at any time by the action of the legislature," Albert said, adding that Sos, who served as Speaker during the Second Truk State Legislature, replaced Fritz Hartman who served seven months as speaker, during the Dec. 4, 1986, reorganization.

The Sept.-23 reorganization may have been caused by a coalition recently been observed developing among the Truk senators since the introduction of the impeachment resolution, Albert said.
